A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on April 25, 2008 has been entered. Claims 1, 3-5, 8-18 and 21-25 are pending. Claims 8-18 and 21-25. Claims 1 and 3-5 are examined here.

The rejections made under 35 U.S.C. § 112, first paragraph as lacking enablement and under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, in the office action mailed October 26, 2007 have been overcome by applicant's amendments and arguments.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1 and 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for in vitro methods of production a viable hybrid cell as claimed, does not reasonably provide enablement for an in vivo method. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims.

The claims of record encompass methods of producing a viable hybrid cell having a single functional mitochondrial population in an intact mammal. However, the specification does not provide any guidance for this method. The extent of the method is the production of such a hybrid cell in vitro or ex vivo. Thus the claim is not enabled for its full breadth. Applicant should amend the claim to indicate the method is being performed on a single isolated cell or otherwise limit to an in vitro embodiment.
